

The Leading Australian Resilient Communities program is designed to amplify the already resilient leadership on the North West Coast of Tasmania.

Delivered by Tasmanian Leaders, in partnership with the Australian Rural Leadership Foundation and Regional Australia Institute, this dynamic program responds to the region's unique opportunities and is guided by best practice learning techniques.

Supporting Australian's regional communities to collectively drive positive change.

Program structure

LARC is a five-day leadership program, delivered across three in-person multi-day workshops.

Content will be delivered by Tasmanian Leaders facilitators with opportunity to engage with local and national experts giving participants access to a series of engaging webinars, ongoing mentoring and coaching, and three in-person residential workshops:

- > RESIDENTIAL 1: 15–17 September 2022
- > RESIDENTIAL 2: 28–29 November 2022
- > RESIDENTIAL 3: 22 March 2023

This is a free program that covers meals and accommodation for program days. Participants must be committed to attending the above dates and to working in small project teams to design and deliver a project to enhance their community's resilience.

E: info@tasmanianleaders.org.au

P: 03 6777 2781

Applications close Tuesday 23 August

www.tasmanianleaders.org.au

Benefits

The LARC program offers participants:

- > A unique place-based professional and personal development opportunity.
- > Access to insights and data to help make sense of the region's possible futures.
- > Executive coaching to meet challenges unique to their roles and sectors.
- > Connection with local peers and national leaders.

Who should apply?

We invite applications from North West community who may be volunteers or employees of local government, not-for-profit organisations and businesses as well as elected members.

Places are limited. Diversity will be key to our success. So, whether you are in leadership roles, or aspire to be, we encourage you to apply.