A ONE-DAY SYMPOSIUM
DESIGNED TO INSPIRE GREATER
TASMANIAN LEADERSHIP

THE OPPORTUNITY

Increasingly fast-paced work environments, technology-driven lives, and shifts in geopolitics have left us feeling overwhelmed.

As our work becomes more automated and artificial, with algorithms taking charge of decisions, how can we maintain a sense of humanity in leadership?

The 2024 Leadership + Humanity Symposium will offer an antidote to our collective sense of overwhelm. In response to recent updates to work health and safety laws which mandate how employers handle psycho-social hazards and grant employees the right to disconnect, the Symposium will explore the implications for workplaces.

Explore the value of human connection, identify challenges and find opportunities to lead with purpose in our daily lives, so we can create workplaces where humans thrive.

Join us in September to explore the benefits of leading with humanity, and uncover leadership approaches that can humanise our workplaces.

“Be prepared to think differently about how you lead, and what type of leader you want to be.”

MONIQUE, 2023 ATTENDEE

WHAT YOU’LL GAIN

With keynote speaker presentations, insightful panel discussions and practical workshops, the 2024 Leadership + Humanity Symposium will give you:

- ✓ Access to premier speakers with proven expertise.
- ✓ Strategies to lead more confidently in complexity.
- ✓ Tools to develop more psychologically safe organisations.
- ✓ A greater understanding of your purpose and motivation to lead others.
- ✓ A unique learning opportunity within a supportive network of peers.

WHO IS IT FOR?

The 2024 Leadership + Humanity Symposium is for curious, change-driven leaders, aspiring leaders, and people who don’t yet realise the value of their influence, including:

- Public sector professionals
- Not-for-profit employees
- Executives and managers
- Entrepreneurs
- Small to medium business owners
- Community change agents
- Educators, trainers and coaches
- HR professionals
- Humans!

WHY GO?

This year’s Symposium is set to build on the community and culture of learning fostered over the event’s seven-year history. Join researchers, business professionals, storytellers and community leaders, to consider the value of human connection, curiosity, vulnerability, and creativity.
